YOUNG PROFESSIONALS IN ENERGY

Cap-and-Trade 2.0 – Phasing in Transportation Fuels and Gas Sector Emissions and Other Latest Developments

When: Wednesday, January 28th, 2015, 6:00pm-8:30pm.

Location and Host: Glaser Weil, 10250 Constellation Blvd., 19th Fl., Los Angeles 90067

Young Professionals in Energy, Los Angeles (YPE LA), will hold its first event of 2015 by taking a look at the expanded scope of California's Cap-and-Trade program as it enters the second compliance period in 2015.

As California's landmark cap-and-trade regulation enters its second compliance period, the number of businesses that fall under the scope of regulation is set to increase nearly two-fold. Expanding from narrow-scope, process emissions to include broad-scope, product emissions will have profound impacts on the state's oil and gas sector. YPE LA invites you to join a high-level conversation among representatives from industry and other stakeholders for a roundtable discussion of the program's achievements, new developments in the program and market, and what businesses and consumers can expect as we move ahead towards 2020 and beyond, including prospects for linkage, invalidation insurance, and other topics.

YPE LA events typically have 75-100 attendees that include a broad spectrum of LA-area professionals in the energy, sustainability, and clean technology, including professionals from utilities, professional engineers, investors, attorneys, venture capitalists, solar manufacturers, as well as government officials.

The draft agenda is as follows:

6:00 - 7:00 pm: Check-in, networking with wine, beer, and light snacks

7:00 - 7:15 pm: Introduction and host remarks by Noah Perch-Ahern (YPE LA President and Glaser Weil Attorney)

7:15 - 8:15 pm: Roundtable Discussion
Scott Hernandez (YPE LA/CTX), Michael Emerson (SoCal Gas),
Ralph Moran, (BP), Stephen O'Kane (AES Americas)

8:15 - 8:30 pm: Q&A/Closing Remarks
