

Omar Corona

Associate

OCorona@ggfirm.com

Ph. 310-201-7518

Fax 310-553-0687

Omar Corona is an associate in Greenberg Glusker's Environmental Group.

Omar's practice focuses on assisting clients in the environmental law context on a range of litigation, transactional, and regulatory compliance issues under both federal and state laws. He also has growing experience and interest in renewable energy transactions.

Omar earned his J.D. from the University of California, Berkeley – School of Law where he received a Certification of Specialization in Environmental Law and assisted with ongoing litigation and legislative advocacy in the law school's Environmental Law Clinic. He was also a leader and proactive member of La Alianza – Law Students of Latin American Descent. Prior to law school, Omar worked on various pro bono matters involving housing, immigration, and criminal law issues at a statewide legal aid organization.

Education

- University of California, Berkeley School of Law (J.D., 2022)
 - Honorable Cruz Reynoso Fellow
 - Jackie Robinson Graduate Fellow
 - Thelton E. Henderson Center Scholar
- University of California, Los Angeles (B.A., cum laude, 2016)
 - Environmental Studies, Political Science

Languages

- Spanish

TOX OF THE TOWN

Where the Law and the Environment Connect. Tox of the Town is a blog written by attorneys in Greenberg Glusker's Environmental Law Group. With years of legal, technical, and business know-how experience, we look forward to providing our readers with timely updates on environmental issues. Subscribe to our blog today to receive updates on changing environmental laws, regulatory and compliance issues, ongoing litigation, and more.

March 22, 2023

EPA Issues Historic Rules on Drinking Water

In an unprecedented move, the federal government proposed strict new rules limiting the presence of a class of chemicals known as per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, or “PFAS,” in the nation’s drinking water – a decision that could impact nearly...

December 16, 2022

California Air Resources Board Approves 2022 Scoping Plan

As we reported previously, the California Air Resources Board (CARB) has taken a highly anticipated vote on its final proposed plan for addressing climate change. CARB unanimously approved the 2022 Scoping Plan at a public meeting on December...

December 12, 2022

Not Just Hot Air: California Ramps Up Climate Goals

California is demonstrating that its promises on climate change are not just hot air; they’re a policy priority for the State that will require groundbreaking action. The California Air Resources Board (CARB) is rolling out its proposed final 2022...