Patricia Hong advises businesses and individuals in various areas involving real estate transactions, including the acquisition and sale, leasing, and development of commercial and residential properties.

As a California native and having grown up in and around the real estate industry, Patty has a keen understanding of the real estate market, which enables her to counsel her clients to achieve the results that they desire. Patricia joined Greenberg Glusker's Real Estate group in 2015.

Before coming to the firm, Patricia worked at a boutique Beverly Hills law firm practicing in real estate and corporate matters. Patty graduated from New York University, where she studied art history, and earned her J.D. from the University of Southern California, where she focused primarily on real estate and entertainment law.
