Vera Serova is an attorney in Greenberg Glusker's Litigation Group.

Prior to becoming a lawyer, Vera spent twelve years in the software industry, both in Silicon Valley and abroad, facilitating development and international implementation of hi-tech software.

As the lead plaintiff in a high-profile consumer class action case, she found a passion for law, which turned the page in her career. Vera attended UCLA School of Law where she served as a member of Law Review and Entertainment Law Review and was recognized as a 2-time Masin Family Academic Excellence Gold Award winner for being the top of her Copyright Law and Music Industry Law classes.
